Announcing a new feature on the website!

* * * The Mineral Sale Rooms are now online and ready for shopping! * * *

I've taken over 400 specimens consisting of older items and excess inventory and placed them all together in 17 new mineral rooms. Each specimen will carry two prices under the description - the first will be the original website price and the second is the discounted SALE price for the specimen. The discounts will vary from specimen to specimen but most will range from 30 to 45%!!!

One other feature with these new rooms - I will update them frequently with new sale items and my show schedule will play a big role in the rotation. In the future, as new show minerals come online, older show specimens will move into the sale rooms at huge discounts to help create space. I have a feeling these rooms will be a popular shopping spot in the months and years to come.

Here is the beginning link for the new Mineral Sale Rooms!

To visit all 17 rooms, simply click on the link at the bottom of every page.

I hope everyone has a chance to visit and take advantage of the steep discounts to add to their mineral collections

Best wishes,

Kevin
