Subject:  Denver 2006 Mineral Rooms Re-updated and on Sale! **

Greetings,

This is a quick announcement that the Denver 2006 Mineral Rooms have been restocked and updated as of today, October 26th, 2007. Every sold specimen has been removed to allow for much quicker browsing and the rooms have been compressed to 11 from the original 15.

AND just to make things more interesting for all, I'm offering a huge 30% discount on all specimens in these just updated rooms - including those which also appear in the Exceptional Mineral Rooms! The only exceptions to this discount are a few consignment specimens which are still discounted at 20% - not too bad for specimens only a year old.

Here's the direct link to the Denver 2006 mineral rooms:

There's some really great specimens in these mineral rooms and every room can be accessed using the link at the bottom of each page. I think everyone will find something for their collection here and save a lot of money at the same time.

The next Denver 2007 Update is only a week away....

Have a great weekend!

Kevin
