Subject: Minette Collection Update

We have had many, many inquiries about this famous collection. Our plans for dispersal of the collection are as follows:

February 2, 2008 at 12:00 p.m. central standard time - we will post to our website approximately 150 mixed specimens from the collection. These will include superb thumbnails, miniatures and small cabinet specimens

February 14, 2008 at 10:00 a.m. mountain time - Dave Bunk Minerals and ourselves will be offering the remainder of the collection at the Tucson Show in the Convention Center. Diana and I will have all of the Arizona specimens; Dave will have the Tsumeb, Mexican and California suites. We each will have a good mix of worldwide specimens.

All of the "Premium" specimens, and there are many of them, will be offered first at Tucson. In order to be fair to everyone, there will be no "pre-show sales" of material.

The smithsonite and borate suites will be withheld from sale until Denver, 2008.

Should you have any questions please let us know.
