Subject: * Exceptional Mineral Auction Closes Tomorrow *

The current running Exceptional Mineral Auction will close on Monday, Aug 11th, at 8 PM central time / 9 PM eastern. Once again, there won't be a staggered close so all final bids need to be in place by 8 PM sharp, with your maximums listed just in case you are overbid at the last second. Proxy bidding is available for all participants.

The link to the mineral auction is located here:

Special Note: This has been another slow summer time / vacation time auction. If you haven't visited the auction, now is a great time to drop in and grab some incredible buys. If you've already placed a bid, you may want to check back and adjust your bid if needed.

Good luck to all during the close!

Kevin
