The Current Best Offer Auction Closes Tuesday!

This is the final weekend before the eighth edition of the Best Offer Auction closes on Tuesday, July 6th. I took a quick look at the auction this afternoon and found that there are many great looking mineral specimens in need of an opening bid. I strongly encourage everyone to check out the auction over the weekend and place a bid or two if you see something you like. Those who do will be very happy on closing night.

As always, offers are welcome and please feel free to bid below the reserve price. I can honestly say that I've never turned down a fair offer.

Please e-mail if you'd like to request proxy bidding

Good luck to everyone and have a Happy 4th!

Kevin
