Subject: * * Update - The Denver Show 2017 Flash Sale Ends Sunday! * *

* Our First Flash Sale is Ending *

Just a quick notice that the website wide Flash Sale will end this Sunday, October 15th. Once the sale ends, the huge 40% or better discounts will end as well. If you've been eyeing some specimens but haven't reserved choices yet, now is the time to act! All showrooms are included in the sale with only Golds, Silvers, and consignment specimens carrying slightly smaller, but still very large discounts. I hope everyone takes advantage of this sale to add some beautiful new mineral specimens to your cabinet!

Why are we running such a huge sale? Because we have several large collections coming back from the show and need additional space for the new show items. If this sale proves to be a popular new feature, it may become part of our annual mineral show features. I hope everyone will take part in this special discount offer.
