John Betts - Fine Minerals Summer Update

Mark your calendars: I will post new minerals next week on August 10, 2021.

I am returning to NYC next week, to ship back orders and acquire some new minerals. This will give me an opportunity to post a special group of new minerals from the collection of Prof. Martin Becker. I will be able to ship the orders that week so there will be no delays.

I plan to return to Maine until later in September.

Good News: I have acquired several other collections. I hope to return to weekly new mineral updates sometime in mid-September.

Sincerely,

John Betts, owner
