New from Nova Scotia

Happy New Year!

What could be happier than lots of new minerals? I've posted three new Nova Scotia updates on the website:

- (1) Nova Scotia Laumontite \(click here\)
- (2) "Chocolate Laumontite" \(click here\)
- (3) Nova Scotia Copper \(click here\)

If you'd rather peruse them all at one link, you can click here for Nova Scotia minerals.

The first group of laumontites are from a Stronach Brook find in 2021 and a Harbourville find in 2020. These are sharp, lustrous crystals and are very nice specimens. (They have been stabilized, as described in the descriptions.)

The next group of “chocolate laumontites” comes from a single pocket at Long Beach, Kings Co., Nova Scotia, Canada. To my knowledge, this pocket was unique – I’ve never seen or heard of laumontite like these specimens! (Also stabilized, as described in the descriptions.)

Finally, there are beautiful native copper specimens from Cap D’Or. This update is comprised of specimens collected in the past 10 years, including pieces that have been in collections since the 2011-13 period (which was unusually productive for the locality), through to specimens collected in October, 2021.

Hope you enjoy the update!

Canadian Dollar

The currency disparity remains in favour of the U.S. dollar these days. My usual reminder - prices on the website are in Canadian dollars (if you are thinking in - or used to browsing online minerals in - US dollar terms).
