Great New Specimens from the Tracy A. Kimmel Collection

I've posted a new update featuring the first of many specimens to come, from the collection of my friend Tracy A. Kimmel (click here). Tracy built an excellent, substantial collection of fine minerals, and I acquired it this year. I have also written a post about Tracy (click here), and I really hope you'll enjoy reading about her - she was a remarkable person.

Tracy's collection includes great worldwide specimens of a broad range mineral species, and large sub-collections of (1) quartz and (2) arsenic-bearing minerals. This update features just a few representatives of all of Tracy's collection, and I hope the descriptions and photographs will give you a sense of Tracy's collecting - she had great taste, she was fascinated by interesting and rare species, and she had wonderful specimens!

On a separate note, there are still some killer specimens available from the Gerald Panneton collection. If you missed them, they are here.

Canadian Dollar

The currency disparity remains in favour of the U.S. dollar these days. My usual reminder - prices on the website are in Canadian dollars (if you are thinking in - or used to browsing online minerals in - US dollar terms).
